

Harper's Handler: Canada's Very Own John D. Portrait of an Oligarch

March 5, 2012

http://www.storm.ca/~kitttoh/Harper_Handler.pdf

Do tell! When you read John D., who did you think of?? Did you think, John D. Rockefeller? Methinks this is what John D. wants you to think. Only, we're talkin about John D. Reynolds.

In a glib and patronizing speech to the House of Commons in 2001 when he was an Opposition MP and Critic, JDR had this to say, "Some of the spending the government proposes sounds good and noble in its purposes...

"For example, the government would allocate $185 million for aboriginal children, for programs such as measures to prevent fetal alcohol syndrome. Some Liberals applaud and I agree, but let me continue. This is a valuable priority, but there is some $7 billion already being spent on aboriginal affairs by the government. It is clear that much of this money is wasted...This is a government that was sending aboriginal leaders and bureaucrats on Caribbean cruises with money that was supposed to go into substance abuse. We forget that very quickly."

That far back! He looks like an early promoter of the now First Nations Financial Transparency Act. It has always been Colonial Policy to "give" the Indigenous as little as possible using whatever excuse of the time, usually blaming the Indigenous themselves.

We came across John D.'s name again in connection with Michael Chamas and a November 2011 series run by APTN. Note#1 We've been trackin this old crook, Reynolds since he was a Reform Party MP pushing a bill to bring back capital punishment in Canada. That was in 2002 when he was associated with an international wanted criminal, Rakesh Saxena.

We wrote about it in an article called, "Canada Harbours Terrorist in Posh Vancouver Apartment". Note#2 Saxena, an Indian billionaire was wanted on murder charges in India while he was bringing down the economy in Thailand. Holed up in Vancouver, he resisted extradition for many years. His current whereabouts are not known to us. Note#3

Reynolds is better known as chair of Stephen Harper's leadership campaign and co-chair of now PM Harper's 2006 election campaign Note#4 which also included Tom Flanagan. Note#5 Tom believes in the "noble lie" while John just believes in himself. Old John and old Tom are much older than Steve who hangs on every toxic word they utter. These two shadowy predators are behind the present PM and the policies he puts into practice.

Reynolds was rewarded for his tireless efforts on behalf of the Empire by being appointed to the Privy Council in 2006. The PCO is what really runs Canadian politricks. Note#6

Involved in federal and BC provincial politics for 25 years, Note#7, John D. was an MLA for the Social Credit Party back in the 80's. In those formative years, he was a member of the B.C. Native Affairs Committee. Whatever you see playing out now towards Indigenous in B.C., John. D. has likely had a hand in it. He's a powerhouse of relentless energy like Maurice Strong and other Paramilitaries in the Psychological Warfare Zone.

John D. Reynolds is a lawyer, born in Toronto but usually residing in Vancouver. He is currently employed as a Senior Strategic Advisor at McMillan LLP in Vancouver. Note#8 He knows many tricks to avoid prosecution, often acting with blatant impunity. That's how we see it.

John D. is a long-time wheeler-dealer in Venture Capital. This usually means involvement in investment holdings and resource development/mining anywhere in the world.

Some of John D.'s Ventures - Fish farms, Tree farms and Mining

Sometimes John D is on the board of directors. Sometimes he acts as advisor as with Agrimarine Note#9. Agrimarine has offices in Vancouver, Campbell River and in two major Chinese cities, Beijing and Liaoning. They run fish farms and fish processing plants like Big Tree Creek Salmon Hatchery, Kyuquot Sound Salmon Farms, and Campbell River Salmon Processing Plant in B.C. Agrimarine also does business with a Norway salmon producer.

Fish has long been an important protein food all over the world. With wild fish like cod depleted from overfishing and salmon depopulated from pollution in their spawning areas, fish farms are becoming all the fashion. How do these fish farms affect traditional indigenous fishing practises and the "environment" generally?? We know one thing for sure, farm fish doesn't taste very good.

John D.'s interest in fish doesn't stop there. Like his friend, Henry Kissinger, he knows that control of global food supply is key to ruling the world. Simon Fraser University has a John D. Reynolds Lab Note#10 devoted to research and report writing/policy making on salmon, everything you need to know about salmon. If there's something not right about salmon farming, Reynolds' team at SFU will fix it. They know which files to "lose or misplace". SFU also hosts the Fraser Institute, one of the most powerful think tanks in the world. Note#11

Like most corporate elitists, Reynolds is very busy in China where plenty of money is to be made. Some of his other interests there include gold and tree farms. He and Maurice Strong get together now and then to listen to Chinese music and chat about the NWO and their roles in global governance.

John D. is on board at the Asia Pacific Foundation APF, Note#12 one of Canada's nearly 100 think tanks. The APF is focused on business in Asia. On board are guys like Harvard academic, John H. McArthur, Daniel "Cognitive Dissonance" Gagnier, former VP at Alcan and now Chairman of Maurice Strong's IISD International Institute for Sustainable Development and Lorraine Mitchelmore, President, Shell Canada Limited. Note#13 We recently sent you a statement from their president and ceo, Yuen Woo, the Chinese Hypnotist. NOTE#14

We found John D. on a list NOTE#15 with the Shesky's NOTE#16 and Pete Harder NOTE#17 of Northland Power NOTE#18. These are like-minded globalists. John D. is a director at Eacom Timber Note#19 with operations in Quebec and an office in Val D'Or. This was handy for Reynolds who backed local MP Lawrence Cannon, now former Minister of Foreign Affairs Note#20.

Barriere Lake Algonquins are quite familiar with Lawrence Cannon whose offices they once occupied to get his attention. He ignored them.

Eacom's wood products are all Rainforest Alliance and Forest Stewardship Council FSC certified. You'll see FSC's logo on your envelopes, packaging and other paper products now. They are involved in taking over all old growth forests and turning them into privately owned tree farms. They call this sustainable development. NOTE#21

Cathay Forest Products runs huge tree farms in northeast China and in adjacent Russia. Note#22 China's appetite for wood products is voracious. Note#23

John D. stepped down from Cathay's board in September 2010 during some scandal involving the company. Note#24 He always seems to gallop away from the scene of the crime.

To round out his holdings, John D. is on board at Ethoca. Note#25 We thought it was maybe an ethyl producer but not at all. With offices in Toronto, NYC and Dublin, Ireland, Ethoca is involved in "Payment Fraud Prevention". These crooks say they want to protect your online transactions. On board with John D., we find the NAU North America Union mastermind Tom Ridge, former governor of Pennsylvania. PA has the distinction of being the state with the most nuclear reactors and the legacy of 3Mile Island.

Shifty ShapeShifters

Among his multiple directorships, John D. was/is on board at ARA Safety Inc. "developing, manufacturing and distributing a line of fire protection products". ARA, incorporated in B.C., was to be bought up by Sino Gas in April, 2010. Note#26

SinoGas is variously described as a capital pool company ("CPC") listed on the TSX Venture and an oil/gas exploration company. With the same directors kept on board, trouble lay ahead. In November, everybody changed their minds and canceled the deal. Note#27 Where's ARA now??

In August 2011, SinoGas made a similar announcement about acquiring an Irish company, Blackstairs. Note#28 In December, 2011, trading in SinoGas shares was stopped. The contact info for front man, Wise Wong keeps changing. The company doesn't appear to have a web site but some info keeps floating around the financial news. Note#29

Reynolds is long gone. He appears to move on unscathed as others are caught up in some turmoil. It all looks like a frantic feeding frenzy to us.

John D. has interests in copper mining in Mexico. Originally Svit Gold Corp., now Catalyst Copper wants to dig a huge dirty copper mine about 300 km west of Mexico City. The 16,900 hectares site is in the Sierra Madre del Sur in Michoacán State. The plunderers figure there's plenty of copper, gold, silver and molybdenum. They need money to do more drilling, etc. Note#30 Shades of Frontenac Ventures...

John D. was formerly on the board at Oriel Resources, Note#31 a UK-based firm trading on the TSX with nickel and chrome mines in Kazakhstan and Russia. Both these minerals are needed to produce stainless steel for domestic and mostly military uses.

In 2008, Oriel sold itself to Mechel, the big Russian outfit. We don't know if that was a profitable venture for everyone but you can be sure Old Pirate JDR would be the first to jump ship with as much of the loot as he could grab. Note#32

According to his McMillan bio, "Mr. Reynolds is positioned to advise companies of any size that seek to identify and exploit new international market opportunities...[thru organizations like CPA and APF. He was] Vice Chair of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association - Executive Committee (the first Canadian political leader to hold such a position), making him well positioned to draw on relationships established among the Association's 112 Commonwealth nations, states and provinces. He has also been Vice Chair of the Canada/UK Parliamentary Association's Executive Committee."

Current members and bigshots at the prestigious CPA Note#33 include Senators and MP's, Art Eggleton, Gord Brown NOTE#34, Hugh Segal, Linda Frum, Colin Kenny, Joe Comartin, Irwin Cotler, Elizabeth May Note#35 and Bob Rae. Brown, Kenny and Segal are on Canada's Trilateral Commission TLC, Note#36 one of the most elusive and powerful groups of all.

Many of these same people scrambled to get on the Canada China Legislative Association. Note#37 Wai Young, Vancouver MP is vice-chair and Daryl Kramp, MP for Prince Edward-Hastings is co-chair. With so many chairs, this sounds like an "all-chiefs-no-Indians" kind of a group. It's a networking club for the powerful and rich.

Commonwealth and Patriotism

Commonwealth is the conciliatory name for British Empire. John D. Reynolds no doubt considers himself a patriotic Canadian, even an empire loyalist. John D. is a member of the Albany Club (just like Treatyman Alexander Morris NOTE#38 and the International Churchill Society which celebrate aristocratic lifestyle and culture.

The Canadian government is spending at least $28million NOTE#39 to finance a big campaign commemorating the War of 1812 and the glories of war generally. While the Feds are restoring old forts and staging military re-enactments, growing numbers of people are homeless and hungry on the streets of Canadian cities, in rural areas and small towns and in Indigenous communities aka "the rez".

Commemorating the War of 1812 is part of a current social trend to glorify war, cultivate mindless patriotism and conciliate the people who are losing sons, fathers and husbands to war. For every one Canadian killed in Afghanistan there are 10 to 100 maimed for life, missing limbs, blind or deaf. Everyone who goes to war is affected psychologically which in turn affects family. The human costs of war are incalculable. Wars are generally waged as a money-making racket for already rich and greedy elitists. The People pay with our blood, sweat and tears. Cuts are made to social services, infrastructure, education and health in order to finance war. YOU PAY one way or the other!!

It is evident to us from shining our little flashlight on some of his business moves that Empire Loyalist John Douglas Reynolds is truly a globalist with no Canadian patriotism and little concern for Canadians, much less Indigenous. His protégée and frontman, Stephen "Pinocchio" Harper is dancing to the same beat. "Pinocchio" loves the limelight while John D. prefers to melt into the shadows.

Canada's John D. has seven children and 12 grandchildren. His sons, Bobby and Paul follow the family tradition in Venture Capital. NOTE#40 Watch out for these prolific predatory two-leggeds, the Reynolds, their associates, lackeys and minions.

We just thought you'd like to know.

"John Reynolds' name was on two folders among the hundreds of documents seized by police when they raided Michael Chamas' house, Federal Court records show.

"One folder, item 076-031, was titled "Hon John Reynolds Laurentian Bank project Letr (sic)." The other folder, item 095a-027, was titled "Reynolds John Laurentian Bank of Canada Ltr(sic)."

... For his part, Crosbie says he knew nothing about anything having to do with copper.

"I do not remember any letter that I sent to a person named Lawrence Gillick on behalf of Chamas and certainly know nothing about any copper deal between Chamas and a Russian company or any company," said Crosbie in an email

Days before Crosbie officially took up his post as Newfoundland and Labrador's next lieutenant-governor, he dictated a letter that was sent Chamas severing their ties.

"Michael Chamas, the alleged "banker" for a Mohawk-based marijuana smuggling ring, is a wanted man in Canada, but recent RCMP efforts to nab him internationally haven't slowed his globe-trotting ways.

"Chamas said in a recent interview with APTN National News that RCMP investigators contacted Lebanese authorities through Interpol as part of their efforts to track him down."

Chamas claims he is being persecuted by the Canadian government which he once supported. He has his own web site.

Rakesh Saxena THE CROOK ON THE RUN

In 1997 he co-financed a coup in Sierra Leone, Africa, by sponsering the mercenary Tim Spicer and with him the mercenary company Sandline, owned by Heritage-Oil (Vancouver) CEO Tony Buckingham with ex-apartheid soldiers from South Africa (Executive Outcomes).

Together with his old friend Adnan Khashoggi, well known arms dealer and involved in the Iran-Contra Affair in the 80s, also uncle of Dodi Fayed, the last partner of Diana Princess of Wales they bought the General Commerce Bank in Vienna/Austria in the year 2000 and turned it into a boiler room, a centre of international stock fraud, to the alleged tune of 1 billion US Dollar. With them the following criminals

- Amador Pastrana, Filipino, international fraud gangster, king of the boiler rooms.
- Regis Possino, ex California state lawyer, disbarred after having been convicted for drug dealing and fraud in the US.
- Raoul Berthaumieu, Canadian, sentenced in 1991 for cheque fraud in Arkansas, Sherman Mazur, US citizen, jailed for 6 years in 1993 for tax fraud.

Saxena was also running his own boiler rooms, amongst them West Shore Ventures in the UK and Platinum Asset Management in South Africa and Botswana

The boiler room in South Africa was raided in 2004 by the Financial Services Board.

Not to forget his allegedly corrupt relationship with leading Opposition Politician John D. Reynolds in Canada.

One has to ask, why does it take now 10 years to deal with an extradition request from Thailand? One has to ask, why does the state allow Saxena to continue with his fraudulent activities?

Mr. Reynolds has the experience to assist mining and other natural resources companies. As a director of two natural resources producers, he is familiar with exploration and mine development issues involving gold, nickel and chromium, in regions as diverse as Kazakhstan, Australia, Ghana and South Africa. Having served as Minister of Environment for British Columbia, he has practical knowledge of governmental policy involving the interplay between land use, economic development and First Nations issues. Also, as a former president of an American-based venture capital company, Mr. Reynolds understands private and public financing sources for growing businesses.

John D. Reynolds The Tom Buell BC Leadership Chair

The BC Leadership Chair in Salmon Conservation has been named in honour of the memory of Tom Buell, who passed away on November 21st, 2003. Tom was ... best known as President and CEO of Weldwood of Canada, one of North America's largest forest products companies.

When Tom died in 2003, a number of close friends searched for a fitting tribute to his memory. Around this time, Simon Fraser University and the Pacific Salmon Foundation were in discussions about the value of establishing a BC Leadership Chair in Salmon Conservation. As Tom had been a keen angler and director of the Pacific Salmon Foundation, his friends and family felt that it would be a fitting tribute to his memory to raise funds for the Chair in his name. The first chairholder, Dr John Reynolds, is delighted to be able to work in partnership with the many people who have contributed to the Chair in memory of such an energetic and passionate supporter of the outdoors.

History

Club Feat - In August 1998, The Albany Club of Toronto celebrated its 100th anniversary at 91 King Street East.

Founding of the Club

In 1882, there was a federal election in Canada, one particularly important for Sir John A. Macdonald and his Liberal Conservatives: they had to establish that their reelection in 1878 was not an accident and that they had truly placed the 1873 Pacific scandal over the CPR behind them..."

Commemoration Of The War Of 1812

<http://www.cbc.ca/news/politics/story/2011/12/02/james-moore-war-1812-anniversary-arts-funding.html>

Feds launch War of 1812 anniversary plans

By Meagan Fitzpatrick, CBC News Oct 11, 2011

Heritage Minister James Moore announced details Tuesday of the government's plans to mark the bicentennial of the War of 1812 ... at an event in Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont.,

"We don't do enough in this country to protect our past, to teach our past, to get kids involved and to learn about this country's brilliant history and the important moments of our past," Moore said. "There is no greater example of that than the War of 1812. Not enough Canadians know about the importance of the War of 1812. It was the fight for Canada."

The federal government wants to mark the 200th anniversary of the war in 2012 in a big way and over the next four years it will spend $28 million on the following:

- An educational campaign on the war.

- Supporting up to 100 historical re-enactments, commemorations, and local events.

- A permanent 1812 memorial in Ottawa.

- Interactive tours, six exhibits, and improvements to three national historic sites across the country.

- Investing in infrastructure at key 1812 battle sites, including Fort Mississauga and Fort York in Ontario.

October 2012 will also be designated as a month of commemoration and Moore named Sir Isaac Brock, Charles-Michael de Salaberry, Tecumseh, and Laura Secord as some of the heroes that will be honoured during that time.

...Canadian Heritage committee member and Newfoundland and Labrador Liberal MP Scott Simms is questioning the amount pledged and, consequently, the reduction of funding then available to other arts groups and initiatives across the country."

Minister's Message

Peter Kent, Canada's Environment Minister and Minister responsible for Parks Canada

Canadians can personally experience many of the most important sites of the great fight for Canada at Parks Canada national historic sites. .. It is a remarkable shared history that helps us connect with our roots, values and aspirations as a nation... With more than twenty War of 1812 sites, Parks Canada is the leading presenter of historic experiences ...including experiencing the lifestyle of 1812 at home and on the front lines, fireworks, spectacles, concerts of modern and period music, tall ship visits, grand encampments and military re-enactments on the actual battlefields... Fort George (Niagara-on-the-Lake) and Queenston Heights on the Niagara Peninsula; Fort Malden (Amherstburg) in southwestern Ontario; Fort Wellington in eastern Ontario; Fort St. Joseph, in the Algoma district of Ontario; Fort Lennox, Fort Chambly, Coteau-du-Lac and the Battle of Chateauguay in Quebec; St. Andrews Blockhouse and Carleton Martello Tower in New Brunswick; the Halifax Defence Complex in Nova Scotia; and Signal Hill in Newfoundland..."
